

TiE-Boston

80 BLANCHARD ROAD • BURLINGTON, MA 01803 • TEL (781) 272-3875 • FAX (781) 272-3880

TiE-Boston Lifesciences & Healthcare & Boston University
(Institute for Technology Entrepreneurship & Commercialization - ITEC)
(BU School of Management Health Sector Program)

are delighted to announce a discussion on:

"Medical Technologies, Collaboration, and the New Entrepreneur"

Monday, October 29, 2007 6:30pm - 9:00pm

Simple medical device innovations can be radical, destroying the competition. The process of innovation has changed. Timelines are shorter. And, many more stakeholders are involved early - physicians, academics, corporations, even insurers and evangelists - making this more of a collaborative and open model.

Come and meet new med-tech entrepreneurs and their financiers. They are using simple inventions, new collaboration models, shoestring start-up budgets, virtual companies, outsourced innovation, leveraging big corporations and yet creating great Medtech companies.

Come and discuss with these successful entrepreneurs and learn how they turned an idea into a business, the top 5 lessons they learned, how they convinced their lab partner-scientist to think of commercialization, how they got their first customer...

Panelists

Kristian Olson, MD

Program Leader, Global Health Initiative, Center of Integration of Medicine and Innovative Technology (CIMIT) Managing Director, Norwich Ventures.

Aaron Sandoski, MBA

Founder, Circe Biomedical Inc.

Barry Solomon, PhD

Worldwide President, Codman, J&J.

P Laxminarain, MBA

CEO, NDO Surgical.

Bernard Haffey, MBA

Moderator

Jonathan Rosen PhD, MBA

Executive Director, Institute for Technology Entrepreneurship and Commercialization (ITEC), Boston University School of Management

When: Monday, October 29, 2007: 6:30PM - 9:00PM

• Networking & Dinner 6:30-7:00PM • Panel Discussion: 7:00-9:00PM

Where: BU School of Management (4th Floor Executive Leadership Center)
595 Commonwealth Ave, Boston, MA ("B" Green Line Blanford Street Station)

Please register for this event at: <http://www.tie-boston.org> (includes Dinner)

For further information, please contact:

TiE office at 781-272-3875 or admin@tie-boston.org

